RELIGIOUS NEWS.

Rev. W. A. Haynes, of Springfield, Tenn., has accepted a call to the pulpit of the First Cumberland Church of this city, and will preach his first sermon here next Sunday.

Elder David Hardison preached at the Christian Church last Sunday night. The text was the "Parable of the Talents;" a good practical sermon.

The Richland Presbytery will convene here to-morrow and hold services Saturday and Sunday in the Second Cumberland Presbyterian Church, on South Main street.

Rev. F. J. Tyler, of Birmingham, has aroused great interest in the meetings; he is holding at the Second Cumberland Church, on Main street. Nearly every night this week he has preached to standing room only, some being turned away unable to get even standing room. A large number have expressed a desire to turn from their sins and lead better christian lives. His effort Wednesday night on the "Crucifixion of Christ," was a very able one.

ABOUT WHERE TO BUY YOUR SPRING CLOTHING.

Now what's the use of bothering your brain a moment longer. We have the right goods at the right prices. We want your trade; you'll want our goods when you see them. We'll make it to your interest; we'll save you money; we appeal to your judgement, and agree strictly to let the fabric, quality and prices talk. Call for our all-wool suits at $10, or go elsewhere and find them duplicated at $12.50. Call for our all-wool suits at $12.50, you might see them elsewhere at $15. Look at those $14.50, $17.50, $20, $22 suits—worth 25 per cent more, easy. Boys are boys; must have the nearest thing to iron-clad clothing. We have taken unusual pains to have them made up wear-resisting. Our line of Boys' clothing at $2.50, $2.75, $3, $4, $5, $6 and $7.50 up, are decidedly unappreciable at these prices.

Our Busy Counter for Monday Next—Come Early or You'll Not Get Close to It.

These three prices reign, 5 cents, 7 1/2 cents, 10 cents.

First named, a grand line of spring chaffies in latest shades. Second, spring gingham, worth 10 to 12 1/2 cents, best values we have ever shown at these prices. Third, Organdy worth 25 per cent more, easy. Boys are boys; must have the nearest thing to iron-clad clothing. We have taken unusual pains to have them made up wear-resisting. Our line of Boys' clothing at $2.50, $2.75, $3, $4, $5, $6 and $7.50 up, are decidedly unappreciable at these prices.

GOT THINGS MIXED.

Two Strangers "Cuss" Each Other Through the Stamp Window at the Postoffice.

Probably the most amusing contretemps that ever occurred in one of Uncle Sam's mail distributing establishments, took place in our postoffice a few days ago. As all who frequent the office know, there are two entrances to the building. One of these, which is always open, goes into the larger portion of the room, outside of the partition containing the letter boxes, stamp and money order windows &c. This is for the use of the public. The other goes behind the partition to the private department, and is intended for the use of only the Postmaster and his clerks. This door is only left open in very warm weather, when after engaging in the heating operation of wrestling with the mail on the inside and the males and females on the outside, the clerks need a breath of fresh air. During one of the warm days of last week, this side door was left open and all the employees of the office were engaged in the back end of the room. About this time a stranger came up and the side door being first he came to, he went in behind the partition and walked on, apparently oblivious that he had got into the wrong place, till he got to the money order window. There he stopped and looked through to ask for what he wanted from a clerk he expected to find on the other side. Just at that time another stranger on the outside, seeing the first one on the inside of course took him for one of the employees and said, "I want some stamped envelopes?" "The hell you do?" replied the man on the inside. The outside one evidently thinking that this was a little "dye-st" postoffice clerk he ever struck, retorted, "yes, by G—d, I do, and I—d—d quick."

The inside stranger rushed into the opening and proceeded to make the air blue with profanity, when Col. Blackburn, with Will Everett and the other boys sited up the situation and interfered to prevent the useless shedding of gore. It was with the utmost difficulty however that they succeeded in persuading the two strangers that they were both a part of the public and neither one had anything to do with the office.

Notice to Debtors of Bank of Columbia.

Notice is hereby given that I have been peremptorily directed by the Chancery Court, to place all uncollected assets belonging to the Bank of Columbia in the hands of an officer by May the 1st, 1893. This order will be strictly obeyed. A. N. AKIN, Trustee.

PROPOSALS FOR FRESH BEEF AND Fresh Vegetables.

Office of Acting Commissary of Subsistence, Columbia Arsenal, Tenn.; April 10, 1893. Sealed proposals, in triplicate, subject to the usual conditions, will be received at this office until 12 o'clock m., on the 10 day of May 1893, at which time and place they will be opened in the presence of bidders for the furnishing and delivery of the following subsistence stores, for the use of this post, viz: fresh beef, for twelve months commencing July 1, 1893, and potatoes and onions, for five months commencing July 1, 1893. Vegetables must be delivered in good, clean sacks, well sewed, and the cost of the sacks must be included in the price bid for the article. Proposals for fresh beef and fresh vegetables must be made up separately. Bids for different articles of vegetables must be independent and will be so considered in making awards. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Proposals must be enclosed in sealed envelopes addressed to the undersigned and marked "Proposals for furnishing (state what article or articles)". For blank proposals and further information, apply to the undersigned. JOHN E. GREER, Captain Ord. Dept., U. S. A., A. C. S. april 11-4

DEATH'S HARVEST.

Died on last Sunday the 16th instant, at the residence of his father H. C. Yeatman, at Ashwood, Russell Houston Yeatman in the 24th year of his age. Death no doubt comes as a relief to this young man, as he has been a sufferer all his life. Funeral services were held at St. John's Church, at Ashwood, on Tuesday, April 18, by Rev. George Beckett.

Died, Tuesday April 18th, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. W. W. Cherry in Columbia, Mrs. Mary C. Polk, generally known as Aunt Polly, in the 81st year of her age. Mrs. Polk was born and has lived all her life here, and at the time of her death was one of the oldest, if not the oldest native resident of the city. She has for many years been a member of the Methodist Church and has lived a most exemplary life of piety, unassuming Christian usefulness. The only children of Mrs. Polk now living are Mrs. W. C. Aydelott and Mrs. W. W. Cherry. She was buried on last Wednesday, at Greenwood Cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Revs. J. W. Hanner and William H. Green. The pall bearers were Messrs John Latta, J. A. Collier, Wm. Voss, W. E. Bostick, W. F. Tucker and C. F. Dodson.

Died at her residence at Mt. Pleasant on Saturday April 16th, after a short but painful illness, Mrs. Myra L. Stockard, in the 71st year of her age. Having reached her three score years and ten, Mrs. Stockard passed away, at peace with God and man, and in the full enjoyment of that Christian hope that robs death of its sting. After funeral services at the home, conducted by Revs. Doers, J. S. Frierson and Sterling Foster, the remains, followed by a large number of friends were interred in the Lawrence Cemetery. The only living children left by Mrs. Stockard are S. B. Stockard of Pensacola, Florida, and Mrs. A. B. Beech, of Mt. Pleasant.

THEY MET IN COLUMBIA.

Interstate Commerce Commissioners Hold a Session Here.

On last Friday the 4th, instant, Interstate Commerce Commissioners, Morrison, Clemmons and Knapp met in this city to try the case of complaints made by merchants and others against the railroads for excessive freight charges. Judge Baxter, of Nashville, and Mr. Dahose, of Chattanooga, represented the railroads, while Messrs. Southall & Smiser and B. A. Rogers represented the people of Columbia.

The time spent by the Commission here was taken up in the hearing of oral evidence, though the bulk of the testimony is by deposition. No arguments were heard, and the court gave the parties interested until next June to take additional depositions, and will at that time examine the records and decide the case. They gave the parties to the cause the choice of arguing it orally in this city at that time, or of filing briefs, in which case the decision will be rendered in Washington.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

On last Friday evening, the 14th instant, a social meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church was held at the Manse. The invitations included all of the adult members of the congregation, and some from other churches. The attendance was large and the entertainment was, in every way, a most pleasant one. The pastor, Rev. F. B. Webb, and Mrs. Webb, know well how to inspire their guests with the feeling of welcome so necessary to the enjoyment of such an occasion and made the "sociable" one in fact as well as in name.

The largest and one of the most pleasant card parties of the season was given in the Century Club parlors last Tuesday night. Miss Flora Kuhn and Dr. J. D. Smith won the prizes. Those present were: Mrs. Nora Smith, Louisville, A. B. Rains; Mrs. T. N. Jones, T. N. Jones; Miss Mary Wilkes, R. G. Sparrow; Miss Minnie Holding, F. B. Gamble; Mrs. R. M. Williams, Kansas City, Morgan Frierson; Mrs. A. P. Morgan, Memphis, J. H. Alexander; Mrs. W. M. Mayes, E. S. Fowler; Miss Flora Kuhn, J. H. Alford; Miss Blauca Czapski, Louisville, Jas. A. Smiser; Mrs. A. S. James, Dr. J. D. Smith; Mrs. F. D. Lander, F. D. Lander; Mrs. Helen Smith, South Bend, Ind., J. C. Dexter; Mrs. W. J. Freeman, J. C. Wooten; Mrs. J. M. Mayes, J. M. MR. E. H. HATCHER

Entertains Justice H. H. Lurton and the Columbia Bar.

Justice Horace H. Lurton, of the Federal Circuit, was the guest of E. H. Hatcher, Esq., two or three days last week, and while here was delightfully entertained by his host. Thursday evening the bar of Columbia was invited to meet the Judge. Thursday was a very inclement evening, but despite the elements Mr. Hatcher's handsome parlors were well filled, and once inside, there was nothing lacking to make the evening a most charming one. At 8 o'clock the expected guests had all arrived, when the sliding doors connecting the parlors with the dining-room opened and discovered a table exquisitely set. At each plate there was a handsome menu card and boutoniere, tied together with pretty long ribbons of different colors. A very beautiful and exceedingly handsome floral design was in the center of the table, and was in admirable taste for the occasion. It represented the scales of justice. The design was woven of roses and carnation flowers. And for the entrees, there certainly never was a more beautiful and delicious spread more beautifully served. The ladies were not visible during the evening, but their exquisite taste was seen everywhere. The following named enjoyed the delightful hospitality of the evening: Justice H. H. Lurton, H. P. Figures, W. S. Fleming, Jr., J. C. Voorhies, J. H. Fussell, E. S. Fowler, E. H. Hatcher, Sam. Holding, N. B. Wilkes, James Smiser, John Dexter, W. C. Whitthorne, Jr., L. P. Edgett, W. J. Webster, F. D. Lander, Edgar Latta, W. E. Greenlaw and G. T. Hughes.

The menu cards read as follows: Oxtail soup. Sherry. Roe shad, Hamburg sauce. Snow Potatoes. Radishes. Olives. Champagne. Spring chicken. Asparagus. Stuffed Spanish onions. Mango pickles. Green peas. Lamb chops. Celery jelly. Game patties. Lettuce. Neapolitan cream. Cake. Edam cheese. Nuts. Cafe noir. Green Chartreuse. Cigars.
